  - g. Upon receipt of the completed forms, the GATS Administrator will complete the account registration process and notify you when you can access GATS.
2. Users need to register in the system as well, i.e. create a new user account. To participate in the Trial Operations period, Users must be registered no later than 9 am Wednesday, August 17, 2005. Log into GATS. Select Register New User. Complete the form and press Submit. Your account will be approved and “activated” upon receipt of your forms (see 1g above).

GATS Trial Operations

A Trial Operations period of the GATS system will be held Monday, August 22, through Friday, September 2, 2005. During these two weeks, participants will have the opportunity to test the functionality of the new system. The two weeks will be partitioned into a compressed certificate trading period to simulate all of the operations that generators, LSEs, aggregators, state regulators, and other users of GATS that will take place once the system goes into full operation.

A timeline and more information about this Trial Operations exercise will be sent to prospective GATS users in late July.

All prospective GATS users are encouraged to participate in Trial Operations. Users will be able to create Sub-Accounts, Trade Certificates and create Behind the Meter Generators. Trial Operations will also allow the user to review the accuracy of their data and make changes where necessary. Time spent “playing” with the system will greatly facilitate use of the system once certificate trading begins. If you are interested in participating or want to learn more about GATS Trial Operations, please email the GATS Administrator (GATSAdmin@pjm-eis.com).
